tation. By mere contrast, he was a strong character, more often read of than met, and the most of his kind, stood out in bold relief because of his mere ecentricity. His dreams, accomplishments, failures, exultations, life history-all alike are sealed in the book of mystery called death.

ORGANIZED MOVEMENT ON TO GET STATE HIGHWAY.

A fair sized delegation from both Clinton and Hickman met at Fulton, with the Fulton Commercial Club, Friday night for the purpose of discussing ways and means of proceeding to influence the State authorities to change their original plan of terminating the proposed government aid highway at Wickliffe, Ky., and to make said highway terminate at Hickman, Ky .- the feasible, oractical and theoretical terminus

In any event the road will come as far as Mayfield, starting from the extreme eastern boundary of the State. What we want, is to swing the route south instead of north. By so doing, we couple this highway with the Memphis-Padueah Highway, giving us a connecting link with the entire South; otherwise the great thoroughfare would have a "dead end" at Wickliffe. This fact has been foreably brought to bear upon the Board of Sinking Fund Commissioners; and the argument made before them at Frankfort was so impressive that they have held in abeyance their original plan and propose to give us serious consideration. This is all we could ask; and it is now up to every man who is interested to communicate by wire or letter with some member of the board. Wire any of the following: A. O. Stanley, governor; Robt. Green, auditor; Sherman Goodpasture, treasurer; M. M. Logan, attorney general; and J. P. Lewis, secretary of State. Each of them are at Frankfort. A good plan is to send a telegram worded something like this: "You are earn-estly urged to consider claims of Hickman and Fulton county regarding cross state highway. #### CANADA THISTLE PEST CULL ALL DEFORMED FOWLS

Prickly Plant Is Found in Almost Every Part of Country.

No Other Weed Has Ever Received So Much Unfavorable Attention. -Roots, Rather Than Tops, Must Be Destroyed.

In the states north of the Ohio river, probably no plant bears such a bad reputation as does the so-called Canada thistle. This marvelously prickly plant abounds in grain fields, pastures, and meadows throughout the central West, and is locally common in the northeastern states. It is found in parts of West Virginia, Kenstucky, and Missouri, and of late years has been increasingly troublesome in the grain-growing sections of the Northwest. Canada thistle, or simply "thistle," has been condemned in the laws of 25 states, and at least one hundred local communities, no other three plants together having received so much unfavorable attention. Certainly no plant is more generally and heartily disliked, unless it be the sand bur of the southern coastal plain.

The cause of the remarkable vitality of Canada thistle and the point that distinguishes it from other prickly plants that are commonly mistaken for it is the long cordlike perennial a depth of eight to fifteen inches, or more, and gives rise at frequent intervals to leafy shoots. Thus it will often be found that an entire patch of thistles is attached to one root, and is in reality but one plant. The root is exceedingly hardy, and can live over winter or through a prolonged drought in a dormant condition. Pieces of the root that are broken off by a plow or cultivator and carried to other places will await a warm, moist period, and then begin to send up leafy shoots, thus establishing a new patch forthwith. If the leafy stems are cut down, others will be sent up to take their place, and this process may be repeated from two to eight times before the root becomes ex-

The point that must be kept in mind in fighting Canada thistles is that it is the roots, rather than the tops, that must be killed. Simply cutting off the tops a few times has much the same effect as pruning an apple tree. But if the tops are cut off deep and frequently, the root must eventually suffocate through lack of leaves.

BETTER PRICES FOR PRODUCE

Bringing About Improved Methods and Closer Attention to Scientific

Growing of Crops. Better prices for farm products are bringing about better methods and closer attention to the scientific growing and handling of crops and soils, according to A. N. Brown, editor of Fruit Belt, who declares that the first and fundamental step is to know soils and to know what elements of fertility should be supplied to aid growing crops. If care be not taken to keep the soil supplied by the addition of mantres and fertilizers, the yields beme smaller each year, but when the solls are managed properly the fer-tility is maintained and productive ness is increased.

BREEDING FOWLS ARE CHEAP

Possible to Purchase Birds Now for Half What They Will Cost Next Fall or Winter.

Many breeders are giving special value on their breeding birds at this time of year and if you are in need of a good cock bird, a hen or two or a pen for breeding next year or for exhibition this fall or winter you are overlooking a good bet if you do not buy now. The same quality along in December will cost you double.

SYSTEM OF FEEDING CALVES

nale Should Not Be Fed Together Any More Than Bunch of Pige-Fix Individual Stalls.

Skim milk calves ought not to be fed together, any more than a bunch of hoggish pigs, for some of the calves soon learn to gulp down their share of the feed, then crowd others away from theirs. Individual stalls or booths form the only correct system of feeding the skim milk calves, so that each one will be assured of its

When They Reach Marketable Size Fatten and Sell Them-Keep Them Free From Vermin.

Handle the chicks, and market deformed birds as soon as they are of market size. Crooked backs, hip joints of unequal height, crooked toes, long beaks, combs with side springs, duck feet, off-colored eyes and a pronounced tendency to off-colored feathers cannot readily be detected without handling the birds. It is well to sew a band of red flannel, or mark with colored paint the legs of birds destined for the early market. A dab of paint on the wing bow is also good. Let these birds run with the others till about the size needed, and then pen and fatten. Many a sale can be made at the door if the chicks are cooped and ready. Keep them free from lice and growing every day, but get rid of them quickly.

DESTRUCTIVE TO THE SWINE

Scours in Pigs More Feared Than Out break of Cholera by Prominent Nebraska Hog Breeder.

Scours in pigs is declared by one of Nebraska's prominent hog saisers to be more destructive to the swine industry of the state than hog cholera. The causes are overfeeding, change in feed, decayed feed, lack of exercise, or dirty water. Sometimes filth in pens and bedding is an additional cause when it is taken into the pig's system from the sow's udder or from the navel. The college of agriculture says that the correction of these conditions is the first measure to be adopted, and that in case scouring has started, the sow's feed should be cut down to a small amount of oats or bran. When the trouble is corrected, the ration should be increased grad-

CONTROL OF CABBAGE WORMS

Mixture of Air-Slaked Lime or Wood Ashes and Powdered Arsenate of Lead Is Favored.

Dust a mixture of one or two parts of air-slaked lime or sifted wood ashes and one part dry powdered arsenate of lead through a cheesecloth bag or apply with a blower. Apply while plants are wet with the dew, after each hard rain or once every week or ten days during the season of attack. Paris green can be used with 15 times its bulk of lime or ashes. A week or two before using the cabbage quit applying the poison, as a precaution against getting any appreciable amount of the poison in the portion of the cabbage eaten as hu man food. Practically all of the poison is removed in stripping the outer leaves. No one need be afraid to use this treatment.

OREGON HOG-BREEDING CRATE

Device Shown in Illustration Can Be Made With Little Cost by Man Handy With Tools.

Effective mating of swine, especially where young sows are mated with old and heavy boars, is a point too often overlooked in hog raising. The Oregon breeding crate shown here can be made with little cost by anyone handy

FEEDING OF MOLTING FOWLS

Material Adaptable for Eggs Will Also Make Feathers-Some Oily Food

Is Necessary.

The feed of molting hens should not differ greatly from that of laying hens, Both eggs and feathers are rich in nitrogen, so a food adaptable for eggs will also make feathers. However, the latter are richer in oil than eggs are, and some food of olly nature should be added to this ration to supply this

It has been conclusively proved that a liberal amount of sunflower, flaxseed or oil meal to the ration makes hens molt faster and leaves them in stronger condition and with more vi

FAULTY SYSTEM OF FARMING

Cows Would Conserve Fertility of Soil and Convert Feed Into Food Products for Market

One of the faults of our system of farming is that there are too few cows on farms. More cows would mean more wealth. The course of life is a thousand trifles, then some crisis; nothing but green leaves under common sun and shadow, and then a storm or a rare June day. Little Incident Proves the Natives of Nigeria Are Capable of Being Educated.

That the natives of Nigeria are capable of advanced forms of education is apparently proved by this little incident told by Constance Larymore in "A Resident's Wife in Nigeria."

"My husband told me that in the course of the patrol they passed tants of the rocks and hills above apand caves. One member of the party Dodds, Thela Barnes, Helen Rice, idly asked what was the scientific Bertice Palmer. name of cave dwellers, the word having slipped his memory for the moment. No one appeared to be able to supply the word. But then the native interpreter, plodding along behind, came up, saying: 'Pardon me, sir, don't you mean troglodytes?"

"The Englishman, amazed, asked where he had ever heard such a word and George replied placidly, 'I was reading a dictionary one day and saw it.

A FAST LIFE. Don't burn the candle at both ends. Times have certainly changed, and, in some respects, not for the better. The tide of life and competition is stronger than it was 50 years ago, and one must expend double the amount of energy to win the shores of success. It makes no difference what goal we aim at, the conditions are the same. We live too fast, work too hard, drink too much, sleep too little keep the nerves on the strain and jump all the time. There are two classes of fast livers-those who work too hard and too long, and those who donot work at all. Both classes are reaching the same end by different routes. They are burning the candle at both ends and even a child can predict the results.

There Will Be No Candle Shortly

Increased speed in any machine, human or otherwise,, means increased wear, tear and waste. Increased waste of the tissues of the body, means work for the kidneys, whose place it is to remove impurities and poisons. Increased kidney work means increased strain, and increased strain means disease. This is why so many fast livers and hard workers have BRIGHT'S DIS-EASE. Many people, not satisfied with the harm their fast life and overwork is doing them, must add to it voluntarily by putting more poison into their system, that further adds to the work of the kidneys, inflaming and irritating them. I mean alcohol, arsenic, strychnine, iron, morphine and other opiates. Surely there are enough impurities in your body, without adding more and yet you do it with the mistaken idea that you are stimulating your brain, increasing your appetite or soothing your nerves.

Take The Strain Off Your Kidneys

They are toiling day and night in your behalf as it is. Don't add to their burden unless you want to issue invitations to your funeral.

COM-CEL-SAR is precisely what you need and what your kidneys would ask for if they had a voice in the matter. No use asking you to live slower, go to bed earlier or work less; you simply won't do it. You may think you will but you simply won't. COM-CEL-SAR will assist your stomach, liver, kidneys and bowel to keep you on your feet without pain; it will ward off sickness and make your life more pleasant. Keep it on hand, take it twice a year, spring and fall, and your doctor bill will be two dollars a year. COM-CEL-SAR is God's medicine—roots and herbs in their

WHY KENTUCKY NEEDS A NEW TAX SYSTEM.

When land grows stale and unprouctive it may be allowed to lie fallow a while but in time the owner will awake to the realization that he is losing money on his investment and will seek for means to make it pay as he knows the loss on the fallow land must be borne by his productive fields.

For twenty-five years under a bane ful taxing system the State of Kentucky has had a lot of fallow land and other unproductive property lying around and contributing nothing to the revenue and the expense of running the government has been imposed on other land and property in sight and

The tax rate has been increased Thirty-seven and one-half (371/2) per cent and the assessments of property Sixty (60) per cent but the revenue has not kept up with the expenditures and the State has piled up a debt of Four Million Dollars, which is increasing at the rate of Sixty Thousand Dollars per > property for taxation is to make all classes bear a proportionate share of the burden and force property not contributing to pay towards the support of the government.

The plan is to tax property instead of The plan is to tax property instead of persons and as nearly every taxpayer owns more than one class of property the taxes of all are uniform on each class. All classes will be taxed for State purposes, land and improvements and some kinds of tangible property will be taxed for County purposes where the owner resides in the country and also for Town and County purposes if the owner lives in a Town. The reason is obvious, as real and tangible property is valuable real and tangible property is valuable according to its location, and farming land is benefited by County improvements, roads and schools and Town lots and improvements by the protection and facilities afforded by Towns. This is rational and fair to all.

There is no law that limits the kind of property a person may invest in or own, but the law may fix the taxes on any kind of property as long as the owner of each class has the same taxes to pay on the same class or classes he may de-cide to invest in. This is the only uni-If a man resides in a Town or City he should pay for the privilege in Town or should pay for the privilege in Town or City taxes. If he prefers the country he should pay for the County expenses. As both live in the State both should pay for the expenses of the State government. It is a well founded theory that the workman should not be taxed on his tools, which are his third hand, and to tax the implements of the farmer or the machinery of the factory is unjustifiable under any pretext. The Constitution, however, forbids the exemption of such property from State taxation and the best that can be done is to eliminate it from town and county taxes.

As to Intangible Property, on which the development of the State depends, there is no sense in throttling the sources of wealth, and as sumptuary laws simply drive such property away, the approved modern method of taxing it is by limitthereby bringing it to light. Such property limited in its productive income cannot and will not stand quadruple taxation for State, County, Town and Schools consuming from one-half to we-thirds of the interest, and as it is neither sub-ject to equalization or exemptions; as other personal property; and assessed at a higher percentage, when located, the tax amounts to practical confiscation and in consequence 95 per cent. of it now evades all taxation.

These are the problems the Legislature has to meet and may they act wisely and fairly to all should be the prayer of all who have the interest of the State at heart.

During his residence in Hickman, we have found him to be an honest, sober, upright gentleman and his official career has been up to the standard, if not above the average.

In due time, as far as he can do so without neglect of official duty, Mr. Huddleston will make an active canvass of the county and present to the people his claims for their support, and if he should be honored with the position he seeks, the people may rest assured that the affairs of the county, so far as the duties of the clerk are concerned, will be well looked after. Royal Baking Powder makes it possible to produce appetizing and wholesome cakes, muffins, combread, etc., with fewer eggs than are usually required.

In many recipes the number of eggs may be reduced and excellent results obtained by adding an additional quantity of Royal Baking Powder, about a teaspoon, for each egg omitted. The following tested recipe is a practical illustration:

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Catarrh being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers of Hall's Catarrh Medicine that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Most of the congressmen who saw Mr. Burleson went on the latter's invitation, to discuss the new plan for systematizing postal accounting by establishing central auditing postoffices in county or district groups. This subject was overshadowed, however, when the news of the civil service order was broken.

One southern member asked if the postmaster general had called them there to ask their views or to tell them what had been done. "I am telling you what is going to happen," he replied. The postmaster general is quoted, as having told them it was too late to protest, as the order had been determined upon and would be carried out.

When the kidneys are weak or disordering, they fall behind in filtering the blood of poisons.
